Iuka Attorney, Tacey Clark Pleas Guilty to Three Felony Charges

On February 20th 2018, former Iuka attorney, Tacey Clark, 54, pled guilty to two felony counts of insurance fraud and one felony count of aggravated DUI. At this time it appears she will serve no jail time for the cases with which she is associated. Originally charged with arson, Clark opted to plea down to the lesser charges.

This case was taken out of the hands of local authorities; assistant Attorney General, Jim Giddy of Jackson, Mississippi was brought in to prosecute the case and Judge Larry Roberts of Meridian presided over the case and handed down the sentence.

On April 16th 2016 both Clark's law office on Eastport St. in Iuka and her home in the Mill Creek area burned down within a few hours of each other. During the course of the investigation into the alleged arson case, Clark was involved in a wreck in which a motorcyclist was severely injured. Clark was reported to be under the influence at the time of the accident. She was arrested and eventually charged, by the Iuka Police Department with arson and DUI/maiming.

On March 2nd 2017, Clark was indicted by a special Tishomingo County grand jury on two charges of arson, and one charge of driving under the influence/maiming.

The February 20th 2018, sentencing was held at the courthouse in Iuka, though the local area Judges and District Attorney did not participate in the final litigation.

Chevrolet Procedure Helps to Spot Snakes

Watch for Snakes

by Tommy Cadle

I haven't written in a long time for various reasons, but mostly because I haven't seen any snakes. All through the entire summer, even when I tried, I couldn't find a snake. I just figured it was one of those years Odle Davis talked about, a year when there would be few snakes. And so summer turned to fall and still I saw nothing. It was maybe September when I went to see my neighbor across the street, Dr. Hill, the eye doctor. "Tommy", he said, "you have cataracts in both eyes". I do so want to call them "Cadillacs".

I had told him I wasn't writing any stories about snakes because I hadn't seen any. "Oh yes", he said, "you've probably seen lots of them, you just didn't know it". That's kind of a scary thought when I remember all those brush piles and lumber stacks I dug around in last summer.

He sent me to see Dr. Shipp in Corinth, and he confirmed it and set me up for surgery. It was a very simple and painless procedure and I didn't have to take a laxative the night before.

Dr. Shipp's nurse told me they had two fixes, the normal repair or the deluxe fix. I guess that would be the Cadillac of cataract surgeries. It was an extra four thousand dollars. I went with the Chevrolet procedure and it simply amazed me. Everything was clear. It looked as if everyone in town had had their car washed. My cousin Bill Caver, who owns the car wash, assured me that had not happened.

The leaves, the trees, my house, everything looked sharp and clean. The best "Fall" in a long time.

If you have any of the symptoms, I urge you to see a doctor, it's a life changing event. The only disappointment from the surgery was when I looked in the mirror.

Tommy D. Cadle

You're not looking in the right place Tommy!

Kristy Counce, the Instructional Technology Specialist at the Tishomingo County Career and Technical Center (Vo-Tech) found a surprise in her classroom Wednesday morning. The snake was in the bathroom adjoining her classroom and brought on screams from both the teacher and students. No more hiding under brush piles, snakes want to learn about the new iPads

Pet of the Week

Congratulations to Cassie Smith! This precious girl is Iuka Animal Clinic's Pet of the Week.

Her owners are Jerry & Patsy Smith. This is what they have to say about her. Cassie is an 18 year old Eskimo Spitz mix. We like to say we inherited her. Her first mommy died of cancer 12 years ago. She came to live with us and be our devoted companion. She is a very calm and loving fur baby whom we treasure.

Thanks to better care, pets are living longer now than they ever have before - but as pets get older, they need extra care and attention. Dogs and cats are considered senior at different ages. Cats and small dogs are generally considered "senior" at seven years of age. Larger breed dogs tend to have shorter life spans compared to smaller breeds and are often considered senior when they are 5 to 6 years of age. Regular veterinary examinations can detect problems in older pets before they become advanced or life-threatening, and improve the chances of a longer and healthier life for your pet. While it's easy to spot the outward signs of aging such as graying hair coat and slower pace, it's important to remember a pet's organs systems are also changing. An older pet is more likely to develop diseases such as heart, kidney or liver disease, cancer or arthritis. It is also normal for pets to lose some of their sight and hearing as they age, similar to humans. Older pets may develop cataracts and they may respond as well to your commands. If you read your pet hand signals as if you were a younger age, it may be easier for you to communicate with your pet as her hearing worsens with age. Simple gestures such as "come" or "stop" allow you to safely regain control of your pet without the use of words. Calling for a senior pet can be challenging but is a wonderful and rewarding experience.

Call Iuka Animal Clinic (Dr. Jim Perkins & Staff) where "Pets Family Too" at 662-423-3470 for all your pet needs. Also check us out on Facebook.

Smokeless Tobacco Not a Safer Alternative to Cigarettes

Twenty-two-year-old Devan McFarland was 13 years old when he first tried snuff. By age 15 he was hooked. The terrible habit has stuck with him for years. He said his now daily habit started simply from hanging around friends that used dip for during adolescence. Because young people who use smokeless tobacco can become addicted to nicotine, they may be more likely to also become cigarette smokers. Although McFarland dips tobacco and stays away from cigarettes, his health risks are no better than smoker's.

Smokeless tobacco is associated with many health problems. It can lead to nicotine addiction; cancer of the mouth, esophagus, and pancreas; increase risks for early delivery and stillbirth when used during pregnancy; can cause nicotine poisoning in children; increase the risk for death from heart disease and stroke, and is associated with other diseases in the mouth.

"Smokeless tobacco can cause gum disease, tooth decay, and tooth loss," said Amy Winter, Director of the Office of Tobacco Control at the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH).

"A lot of people think that just because it's not a cigarette it's safer, but it's not. All tobacco products are harmful, addictive and can cause cancer."

Preventing tobacco use among youth is critical to ending the tobacco epidemic in the United States. Flavorings in tobacco products can make them more appealing to youth. In 2014, 73 percent of high school students and 56 percent of middle school students who used tobacco products in the past 30 days reported using a flavored tobacco product during that time.

"There is evidence that youth may be sensitive to nicotine and that teens can feel dependent on nicotine sooner than adults," said Jenniffer Palmer, director of the Mississippi Tobacco-Free Coalition of Prentiss and Tishomingo Counties. "There is a strong relationship between youth smoking and depression, anxiety and stress. Expectations of positive outcomes from smoking, such as coping with stress and controlling weight, are related to youth tobacco use."

If you want to quit using tobacco, contact the Mississippi Tobacco Quitline at 1-800-QUIT-NOW to receive free counseling and medications. For more information, visit www.quitlinems.com or call (662)587-5626.

Dawn Deaton Clement

Florence, AL - Kaysie Deaton Clement Thursday, February 22, 2018. She was born September 12, 1948 in Belmont, Mississippi to the late Otha Casey Deaton and Willie Yarbber Deaton. She died peacefully surrounded by her

Dawn or "Kaysie" as she was called by her siblings, graduated from Belmont High School in 1966 and matriculated at Mississippi State University. In her freshman year, she married Bill Dodd, a law student. They left school, but Dawn would finish her bachelor's degree at Colorado Christian University.

In their first six years of marriage, Bill and Dawn had two children, Kaysie and Patton. For several years, they raised see, then began to move around the country—first to Huntsville, Alabama, then to Vallejo, California, then to Colorado Springs, Colorado. Dawn was a working mom in those years, serving as an office administrator and improving the environment of everywhere she worked. Coworkers from various jobs remain dear friends, because friendship with Dawn was something to cherish for a lifetime.

Dawn is famous to all who knew her. Friendship, love, faith—these were her areas of expertise and will be her legacy. Her friends and family depended on her wisdom, her intimate knowledge of the Bible, her unfailing thoughtfulness, her wit and wisdom, her easy laughter and her devotion to prayer. Unassuming and quiet within, Dawn was yet a powerful presence, a force of joy and love.

After Dawn left the South in 1985, she spent over twenty years longing to return. On a visit home in 2006, she ran into Jack Clement, who had lost his wife eight years prior. For a second time, Dawn and Jack fell in love. In 2007, Dawn had returned to the South, and she and Jack were married in 2010. Though she battled against cancer starting in 2008, for Dawn these years were full of abundance—a loving, life-giving marriage, regular visits to children and grandchildren across the country, rich relationships with Jack's kids and grandkids, proximity to her siblings, cousins, and childhood friends, and of course, a bounty of new friendships.

Services were held Sunday, February 18, 3 p.m. at Deaton Funeral Home Chapel, Belmont, MS with Mark Steele officiating. Burial was in Belmont City Cemetery, Belmont, MS. Dawn Deaton Funeral Home, Belmont, MS was in charge of arrangements.

She is survived by her husband of nearly eight years, Jack Clement, her high school sweetheart and the true love of her life. Along with her husband, Dawn leaves behind two grateful children, Kaysie Steele and husband, Mark Steele of Tulsa, Oklahoma and Patton Dodd and wife, Michaela Dodd of San Antonio, Texas; two step-children, Carter Clement and wife, Hannah Clement of Florence, Alabama and Mollie Walker Clement McLemore and husband, Gerald McLemore, Jr. of Jackson, Mississippi; three adoring siblings, Karen Allen and husband, Jerry Allen of Tupelo, Mississippi, Mike Deaton and wife, Allison Deaton of Golden, Mississippi and Beth Erwin and husband, Richard Erwin of Birmingham, Alabama. Dawn's ten beloved grandchildren, who called her "Mama" and cherished her, are: Morgan Heath and husband, Baylor Heath, Jackson, Charlie and David Steele, Bel, Henry, and Louisa Dodd and Sallie Carr, Mae Walker and Clara Margaret McLemore.

Fullbearers were Jackson Steele, Baylor Heath, Charlie Steele, Henry Dodd and Carter Clement.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks for donations to Help Center, 621 S. Court St., Florence, AL 35630, phone 256-766-7663.

Pastor's Tidbits

by J. Briggs King,
Evangelist,

The Judgment of the One-World Government IX

Now we are coming to a time of rejoicing, but it is not the rejoicing of those who have been involved in the one-world government, rather it is rejoicing in heaven, as we will see from Revelation 18:20-24: "Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged you on her. And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all. And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee; And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived. And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth."

I will not attempt to give details on all that is here, but you will get the picture that heaven will rejoice when the wicked government of earth has ended. Please understand what I am saying, for I am not condemning all human government, for God instituted it. I am, however, condemning wicked human government, and that government, under the antichrist, will have reached the lowest depth of depravity during the tribulation, so that the only thing left is the judgment of God. Why would saints in heaven rejoice over the fall of the one-world government? It is because that government will have been against God, against righteousness and against every person who knows God and seeks to obey Him. Our verses say that God has avenged the saints on Babylon, or that He has poured out His vengeance on her for her mistreatment of God's people. The mighty angel takes up a huge stone and casts it into the sea to symbolize the complete and final ruin of the one-world government! God will in anger throw down the last stronghold of Satan in destroying his government on earth in Babylon. This will be when "the music stops"! The world of the ungodly, even now, wants to sing about ungodly thoughts and actions, but God will bring all of that to a screeching halt! The musicians will not be found; the singers will be silent; the mills will be shut down; the craftsmen will not show up for work, for God will have judged the entire system of the world and its father, the devil! Nobody will dine by candlelight, and no wedding chapels will be occupied when God judges the one-world government and all of its constituents!

Now we will see one other thing about this judgment of God on the one-world government. Her judgment will be severe, because she has been instrumental in the shedding of the blood of God's prophets and saints. Verse 24 of our verses above says that in Babylon will be found the blood of prophets, saints and all who have been slain on the earth. Should anyone think that God is going to let the world of the ungodly get off scot-free for its mistreatment of His people, I would suggest a careful reading of Revelation chapter 18! I wish every person on earth would be saved and go to heaven, but since God does not make all men receive Christ, the vast majority of people will miss heaven and "make" the lake of fire. The good news is that the door of salvation is still open, and God is still calling on the unsaved to repent and trust Christ for salvation.

Legislative Report

By Bubba Carpenter
Week of February 12, 2018

With general House Bills out of the way, representatives began working on House Appropriations Bills, which will determine how much money is given to various state organizations.

The House was responsible for looking at the preliminary budgets of 51 state agencies, including the Departments of Transportation, Public Health, Medicaid and Public Safety.

Budgets included reverse repealers, a clause which ensures that a bill cannot become law before going to a conference committee for further revisions. With reverse repealers in place, most appropriations bills were voted on in a block to help speed up the process.

Among these was House Bill 1592, the appropriations bill for the Mississippi Department of Education. During discussion for this bill, a conditional amendment was offered that would prevent MDE from receiving any money from the state budget unless the department removed its requirement for students to pass all end-of-course tests, commonly known as "exit exams." The amendment passed the House by a voice vote.

The House Ways and Means committee also introduced several bills on the House floor this week.

Under House Bill 1550, recent college graduates could file for a tax deduction within one year of graduating from a four-year college or university. Those graduates would be entitled to this deduction for up to three consecutive years if they remain a resident and employee in the state of Mississippi, and an additional two years if they purchase property in the state for residential or commercial use.

Next week is the deadline for action on appropriations and revenue bills. After that, House committees will begin considering bills which passed through the Senate.

On Tuesday, the House recognized Tony Brown, Mississippi's Gatorade Player of the Year in football. House Resolution 14 commended the senior running back from East Central High School in Jackson County for his accomplishments on the gridiron.

Several groups visited the Capitol this week, including medical students from the University of Mississippi Medical Center, the Mississippi Egg Marketing Board, the NAACP, Canopy Children's Solution, the National Alliance of Mental Illness and the Women's Foundation of Mississippi.

(This story is being shared with our readers by Bob Hodge of Iuka. Many have not heard of this community located North of Hwy. 72 in the Dickson Community, West Colbert County, but it did exist in the late 1800's. According to Google it was 3 miles SE of Cherokee, 10 miles west of Iuka and 7 miles from Riverton. All that is left now is Fossick Lane near the Mill Creek Loop.)

The community of Ingleton in West Colbert County was established in 1870 by Thomas Lancelot Fossick, Sr. who came to north Alabama to construct the bridgeheads and culverts of the railroad from Tusculum to the Tennessee line.

He was born in England in 1817 and moved to the United States in 1849. Over the next ten years, Fossick built a lot of the mason work on the James River Canal near Thomas Lancelot Fossick, Sr.

Lynchburg, the stonework on the East Tennessee Railroad from Sweetwater, Tennessee, to Dalton, Georgia, the stone piers of the Knoxville and August Railroad bridges and the first Catholic Church in Knoxville.

Moving to Alabama

in 1870, he established a business in the production and wholesale dealership of goliath limestone, with quarries in Colbert and Franklin counties.

Fossick and his wife, Margaret Richardson Fossick, named their community Ingleton after their home in England. A three-mile spur tract was built from Dickson (now Chisca) north to the quarry ending at a 100-foot millshed with a boiler room facing west where the cut stone was manufactured. There was an adjoining millshed yard which extended into the branch. An underground waterway was constructed to provide water for the sawing operation. A two-story office and commissary building was located west of the underground waterway.

A number of houses were constructed in Ingleton during the 1870's, including the residence of several members of the Fossick family. The family brought with them their English lifestyle and heritage. Their children were sent to Europe to school. Mr. Meriwether, their gardener, came from England to landscape the grounds. Magnolia and Yew trees abounded. Rose gardens were cultivated and orchards established.

The only remaining house is located in a beautiful setting on a hill above the quarry site and is known as the George Fossick home. The two-story dwelling faces south. The two large chimneys accommodate eight fireplaces, one in each of the main rooms. Stone steps lead to a wide front porch, and the solid front door is surrounded by panes of etched glass with an ornate octagon shaped glass above the front door. The circular staircase begins to the left of the hallway. The wide railing curves to the right to a landing with three more steps from the landing to the north and to the south to reach the upper rooms. The home is now owned by Mr. Jimmy Davenport. Mr. Davenport's father purchased the property in 1911 and the Davenport family has lived in the house since that time.

T.L. Fossick Company moved its operations to Rockwood in Franklin County in 1887 because of the availability of a better grade of limestone. George E. Fossick, however, continued to operate the commissary, and also served as postmaster of Ingleton from November 1886 when the office opened until 1911 when it closed. He moved to Memphis in 1910.

Notable structures built of Alabama limestone from the Ingleton and Rockwood quarries include the Louisiana State Capital building, Empire State and Grand Central Station buildings in New York City, and the rotunda of the Mellon Gallery in Washington, D.C. Locally, Ingleton supplied stone for the Riverton Locks in the West Shoals canal.

AmeriCorps NCCC Team Comes to Shiloh National Military Park

SHILOH, Tennessee – An AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps (NCCC) team will arrive this month at Shiloh National Military Park to assist with various park-based resource management projects. An AmeriCorps NCCC team consists of young adults from 18 to 24 years of age, who travel to communities across the country, working on a multitude of projects, which help to develop and strengthen their civic engagement and leadership skills. Over the month they are assigned to Shiloh, the ten-member team will focus their resource work at several sites located on lands stewarded by the park in Corinth, Mississippi. Projects will include clearing encroaching vegetation from access roads, maintaining hiking trails, removing outdated boundary fencing, and trimming vegetation in and around Civil War earthworks to improve historic views for park visitors. The team will arrive on February 13th and work in the field through March 12th. The AmeriCorps NCCC is a federally-funded program managed by the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS). The CNCS was established in 1993 to assist Americans of all ages and backgrounds to better connect with work opportunities to enhance personal job skills, and at the same time work to complete meaningful and important resource projects that improve the quality of civic life in American communities. In addition to working with local and federal government agencies, AmeriCorps teams provide similar work on projects for non-profit organizations, and are routinely called upon to respond to natural disasters throughout the nation. To learn more about the AmeriCorps NCCC and the CNCS, visit their web page at <https://www.nationalservice.gov/>.

The Generals Breakfast at Cherry Mansion

SAVANNAH, TENN. – The Hardin County Convention and Visitors Bureau is pleased to announce that they will again host The Generals Breakfast at Cherry Mansion.

The event will be held on Saturday, March 31, beginning at 9 a.m., on the lawn of the historic home in Savannah.

Cherry Mansion came of note during the Civil War when General Ulysses S. Grant made his headquarters at the home during the Battle of Shiloh.

Tickets for the event are $15 each and include a continental breakfast, a storytelling program by the attending Generals, and a tour of Cherry Mansion. Tours are for breakfast ticket holders only and are immediately following the breakfast performance.

"General US Grant, portrayed by Dr. Curt Fields, will be joined at his headquarters by his rival, Confederate General P.G.T. Beauregard, portrayed by Larry McCluney, Jr. These first-person living history portrayals are a unique and fun recounting of historical events and famous people, making for some great storytelling! Visitors will also have the opportunity to tour the mansion, that is now a private home, and hear the history inside and out," said Tourism Director Beth Pippin.

Pippin added that this event has grown each year over the last six years and there is only a limited number of tickets available.

This event is one of many being held during the 156th anniversary of the Battle of Shiloh. The day continues by offering a visit to the Tennessee River Museum in downtown Savannah and then you are encouraged to follow in Grant's footsteps taking the trip across the river to Shiloh National Military Park.

Battlefield Hikes, caravans, and interpretive events will be presented during the anniversary week of April 5-7 at Shiloh National Park.

Tickets for The Generals Breakfast are available now by calling the Tennessee River Museum at 731.925.8181 or emailing info@tourhardincountytickets.org.

Photographer Commemorates Service Project of Local Women in Book for Grandmother

Ms. Caroline Walker Evans of Seattle, Wash. recently created a book of photography and information based on the service project of her grandmother, Ms. Ruby Highland Brown and Ms. Brown's friend, Mrs. Charlotte Hayes, both of Cherokee, Alabama.

The two women weave together sleeping mats from recycled grocery bags and distribute them to a homeless shelter in Florence, Alabama. These sleeping mats provide comfort for the homeless who receive them. Inspired by the internet the two women get together and create the mats, pot-holder style, on a loom that was made by Mrs. Hayes' husband. Each mat makes hundreds of bags to make and the weaving process is quite extensive.

Ms. Evans took the photographs and put together a book to commemorate what these women are doing to help others. To aid in this cause the ladies are asking the community for donations of plastic bags which can be dropped off at Rushing Drugs or Burnsville Discount Drugs. Bring your clean plastic bags to Burnsville Discount Drugs or Rushing Drugs to be a part of this community service effort.

Mrs. Ruby Brown (right) and friend Charlotte Hayes, were excited to receive this beautiful book to commemorate the work they do weaving sleeping mats for the homeless. Caroline Evans, who is a photographer, documented the work of her grandmother while visiting recently and had the photos put into a bound book for her enjoyment.

Shomongo Day Activity Center clients enjoyed a Valentine party on February 14, hosted by members of the Iuka 20th Century Club: Those serving refreshments and helping with a Valentine craft, and playing a game of Jingo were: (L-R) Laura Lee Haygood, Sandy Travis, Vicki Yates, Jo Russell, Brenda Irwin, Fredda McCune, Beverly Estes, Sue Kerby and Pat Nichols. Everyone had a good time working, playing and getting together.

Twentieth Century Club Met at Iuka Library

On February 8, 2018, President Jo Russell called the meeting to order at 6:00 P.M., at the Iuka Library. Hostess for this meeting was Beverly Estes, and program presenter was Sandy Travis.

Members present were Jo Russell, Ruth Ellen Sue Kerby, Maxine Wade, Beverly Estes, Sandy Travis, Joy Kitchens, Pat Nichols, Brenda Whitfield, Fredda McCune and Laura Lee Haygood.

Beverly led the members in the Pledge of Allegiance and gave the devotional. Birthdays for January and February were recognized. She gave an invocation for delicious refreshments that were served after the program.

Sandy Travis presented the program on heart health and interesting facts about Valentine's Day. We were happy to know that dark chocolate is still "good for you!"

Joy read thank you cards from Jo Russell, Iuka Elementary School Library, Iuka Public Library, St. Jude's, and SAFE for recent donations and support projects.

Minutes of December's meeting read and approved. Fredda gave the financial report. There were no minutes for January as we did not meet due to inclement weather.

Fredda gave final pecan report - all pecans had been sold. Jo reported year-end reports for the GFWC-MFWC had been completed.

Box Tops for Education and aluminum can tabs were collected. Cell phones are needed for SAFE and we have an ongoing collection for these.

Work on the 2017

Club scrapbook will begin soon.

Our District III Convention will be held in Eupora, MS, March 10. Several members indicated interest in attending. Members were encouraged to enter their Arts and Crafts for judging and information can be found on GFWC-MFWC website. Judging will be done at the convention. Scrapbooks from participating clubs will be displayed as well as art (including youth art), photography, and other creative items.

Our next regular meeting will be March 8, 2018. Hostess will be Brenda Irwin and program presenter Beverly Estes. Our Action Plan is bathroom tissue for the Food Pantry.

Fredda McCune won the door prize.

Black History Month Display at Old Courthouse Museum

Iuka Alderman, Johnny Southward is shown reviewing the Black History display at the Old Courthouse in Iuka. Alderman Southward said that it was extremely important for everyone to remember the history of the African American population especially in Mississippi. Southward stated that it was equally important to remember both the tragic events in the past as well as the impressive accomplishments. He was very impressed with the number of books that individuals could utilize to research their ancestors.

A Crash Course Skills is Helping Growth in Tishomingo

by Savannah King
In the northeastern-most part of Mississippi, rural Tishomingo County is proving to be at the corner of opportunity and industry.

In October, Orbital ATK announced it will invest nearly $10.5 million in an expansion of its 320,000-sq.-ft. (29,728-sq.-m.) Iuka facility. The aerospace and defense company will manufacture large composite aerospace structures for launch vehicles and a large national aerospace and defense program. The expansion will create an additional 50 jobs.

"Our decision to place this additional work in Mississippi emphasizes Orbital ATK's commitment to not only our employees and customers, but to affirm our commitment to the State of Mississippi," said Steve East, vice president and general manager of Orbital ATK's Aerospace Structures Division.
