Pet of the Week

Congratulations to Dory Maness. This sweet lady is our Pet of the Week at Iuka Animal Clinic. Her owner is Justin Maness. Dory is a 10-year-old Labrador Retriever, who is a very special pup. She was born on Christmas day and is as great as the holiday itself. Dory is everyone's friend and is always ready to go and play. She loves to swim and play in the water and fetch is her favorite game. She loves snuggles and to sleep in front of the fan. Oh, let's not forget about snacks, if she hears a cheese wrapper she will come running to the fridge because she wants a bite. Her human dad spoils her with just about anything she wants and takes great care of her health. They are great friends and love spending time together. We all love our pets like family and when your furry friend gets older it is very important to make sure you keep their health care up to date. Dogs and cats are considered senior when they are

7 years old and up. Veterinary health exams twice a year will help identify any issues that may arise. Just like in humans, dogs & cats can develop many different health problems just from age alone. Dr. Jim Perkins is here for your pet to make sure they are in the best of health. You and your furry friend can have many years together with the best in veterinary care. Call 423-3470 for an appointment. Your pet will thank you.

Iuka Public Library enjoys visit by Central MS Turtle Rescue

The Iuka Library was proud to host Christy and Luke Milbourne of Central MS Turtle Rescue this past Saturday. Luke and Christy brought with them a number of Mississippi turtles, including river cooters, snapping turtles, box turtles and a non-native tortoise, who was a huge hit with attendees.

Sponsored by Tishomingo Arts Council, attendees were engaged to create art on the turtles from presentation. TAC particularly impressed with the creativity of Lily Hall (age 11, speedy) who created sculpture from recycled materials, inspired her own three legged "Nubbins".

2021 TCHS Braves Football Preview

The Vidette was able to sit down with TCHS Head Football Coach Richard Russo for a pre-season preview of the GridIron Braves. Russo said, "This year's version of the Braves has tremendous potential. I have not been this excited about the prospects of a team's season in a while. However, potential is just that, it is the possibility of a high ceiling, everyone must Row in the same direction from the players, the coaches, the managers, the support staff, the boosters, and all three towns. If that occurs and we take it one rep at a time, one practice at a time, one game at a time, and one play at a time, we have a chance at a very successful season. The boys have had a tremendous offseason and 39 members of our roster made the elite Super Brave Summer Workout Club."

Quarterbacks

Second year starter Senior Blake Counce returns to the helm after an impressive season as a first-time signal caller. Counce's decision making, and arm had an impressive three game run against Belmont, East Union, and Lewisburg in 2020. Russo stated that he should flourish in their new offense which they have built around Counce's skill set and what he does well. Expect Counce to be more balanced and have more of an impact in the ground game than in the past. Backing him up will be Junior Chandler Williams, Sophomore Eli Edwards, and Freshman Thomas Barnes.

Coach Richard Russo

Running Backs

Russo stated that the Braves will base out of two back sets a lot more than the 2020 version did. The tailback duties should see Junior Chandler Williams getting the bulk of the carries. Seniors David Tierman and Bryan Scales will back him up. The Fullback position will see Sophomore Triston Stanford, Junior Jaxson Pryce-Jones, Senior Konnor Tuders, and Senior Landon Osborn on a rotation.

Offensive Line and Tight Ends

Gone is 2020 Stand-out Jim Riley who is now on an SEC Roster in Starkville. The coaches are hoping that Senior Austin Hairrell, just as good of a frame as Riley, will step up and be the anchor of the "Hawgs" Offensive Line. As of press time, Russo states that McKinley Davis, Shea Harwell, Caleb Curtis, and Cade Bishop are the current starters. However, Clint Phifer and Logan Johnson will push each of these young men to be in that starting rotation. The Braves new Offense will utilize a Tight End this season rather than the H-Back they featured in 2020. There will be a youth movement at the position with Sophomore Houston Richardson and Freshman Wesley Baker seeing the bulk of the reps early. Senior Seth Stidham will push these young men hard for playing time.

Wide Receivers

Senior Mason Daniel really flourished down the stretch for the Braves. He will anchor the Split End position in their Heavy sets, while he will operate out of the Slot in their Spread Sets. Junior Rylee Weeks will serve as the Flanker in the Heavy Sets, while Senior Chase Hopkins and Junior Austin Hankins will relieve him in the Spread Sets.

Defensive Line

The self-proclaimed "Wrecking Crew" Defensive Line will be anchored by three Seniors, Jackson Stuart, Caleb Bonds, and Seth Stidham. Junior Caleb Norman came on strong during Spring Try-outs to earn the fourth spot. The X-Factor is Senior Move-In Eli Ledbetter. The coaches are anxious to see what he can do. On third and long packages, Scales, Pryce-Jones and Stidham serve as rush ends, or Psycho Ends as Russo called them.

Linebackers

2020 leading tackler Tyriek Duckett has moved on to college. To fill that void, Russo moved the most productive Defensive Back Senior Bryan Scales to the "Nasty Corps" Linebacking crew. Scales should anchor the weak-side while Junior Jaxson

39 Braves made Summer Super Braves for accruing or more Summer Workouts Units.

Pryce-Jones is penciled in at the Strong Side. The surprise of the spring was the emergence of Freshman Linebacker Tristan Poling. He not only earned the starting spot but led the Varsity in Tackles in the Spring Game at Saltillo. Also competing for playing time will be Stanford, Freshman Owen Nash, Freshman Nick Colley, Sophomore Gavin Ross, and Sophomore Layton Monroe.

Defensive Backs

The Secondary is inexperienced, but very talented as they return no starters with Scales moving to the Linebacking Corps. The Corners are expected to be Hopkins and Hankins, while the Safeties are expected to be Senior Gage Tackett and Senior Joshua Moore. Williams will provide quality depth. Nickels are expected to be Daniel, Williams, and Tuders. Russo says this group will get better and better as the season progresses.

Specialists

Gone are Scott Robinson's booming Kickoffs and Punts, as he now kicks for the UNA Lions. Replacing him will be a battle between Daniel and Weeks at all positions. Luckily for the Braves, Harwell, an All-Region Long Snapper as a true Freshman, returns. Punt Snapping duties will be a battle between Stuart and Bonds. Holding duties could range from Williams, to Edwards, or possibly Gavin Ross.

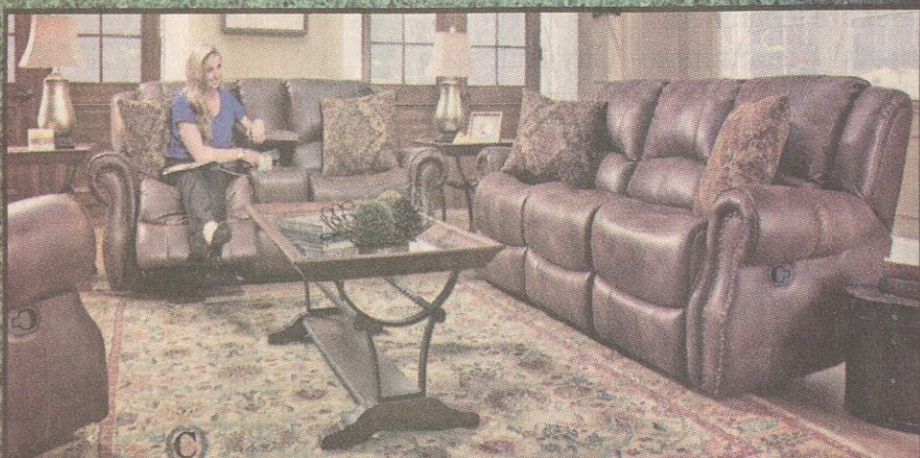

Coaching Staff

Russo stated that he thanked Coach Samuel Hathorn and Coach Billy Nunley for their service to the Braves as they moved on to Lexington (Alabama) and Itawamba

AHS respective Braves promoted Zach Glover to Coordinator and Conditioning. Also, Coach Marlin was promoted to Passing Game Coordinator and Coach Scott Lin was promoted to Game Coordinator. Braves were able to play Quarterback during school tenure, to the
