Election Year in Local Cities

Qualifying Deadline February 5th

Municipal elections will be June 8th in all the cities/towns in Mississippi, and some potential candidates for Tishomingo County's towns have already picked up papers to qualify to run for office.

The qualifying date, which is usually in March, has been set for February 5, which is next week. All towns in the county are reporting slow pickups on qualifying papers. Officials that will be on the ballot are aldermen and mayors, and, in Iuka, police chief.

To qualify to run, candidates must be a registered voter residing within the corporate limits of the town. They have to present a petition with 50 signatures of other registered voters within the municipality.

In Iuka, one person has picked up papers to run for mayor, and four for aldermen. Police Chief Randy Stringer has already turned in his qualifying papers.

In Belmont, the mayor and board of alderman have picked up papers and three additional people are going to qualify at this time.

Clerk at the Tishomingo City Hall reports no newcomers have picked up papers at this time. Incumbents have.

In Burnsville, the mayor and incumbents have picked up papers and also one newcomer for the office of alderman.

Grants Awarded to Yellow Creek Port from the Mississippi Transportation Commission

The Yellow Creek Port Authority was recently named among those to receive grants in the state from the Mississippi Transportation Commission. The two projects which have been chosen in this county will increase the potential for industrial shipping to and from manufactures in Tishomingo County.

Yellow Creek State Port Authority was granted $241,500 for crane support platform.

This crane support platform will be installed at Yellow Creek Port allowing for the use of cranes to lift and transfer heavy loads directly onto barges for shipping via the waterway. This installment will increase the availability of locally manufactured goods as well as open new possibilities to future shipping endeavors at the port.

The Yellow Creek Port Access Railroad project was given $246,400 to complete the development at Burnsville.

The Yellow Creek Port access railroad will be constructed in Burnsville to provide a direct access line from industry to water and rail. A quarter of a mile access railroad is all that stands in the way of connecting the port at Burnsville and the Norfolk Southern Railroad.

This project will utilize the existing rails which are in place and extend them to connect the two giving local industries access to move their products directly onto trains for shipping. This improvement is an attractive feature for industries looking to build in the area, it will also significantly assist the already existing companies in Burnsville.

The Mississippi Transportation Commission announced the $2.8 million in funding would be distributed for multimodal transportation projects throughout the Northern District in Mississippi. The Mississippi Department of Transportation was called on to award the grants to regional and municipal airports, ports, railroads and public transit systems throughout north Mississippi. Because Yellow Creek Port was among those chosen Tishomingo County will benefit greatly from the funds awarded.

Tishomingo County FFA Members Take Top Honors in State Competition

Tishomingo County Career & Technical Center FFA members, Noah Carpenter and Cheyenne Hughes, took the top two places in the 2019 - 2020 Mississippi 4-H & FFA Replacement Beef Heifer Development Contest. This contest takes place over a ten month period. Participants select or purchase three heifers, purebred or commercial, for which the participant will manage and develop throughout the process. The student is tasked with providing the daily management and care of these animals as well as making management decisions related to the feeding, grazing, breeding, and health of the animals. The project teaches youth the importance of making sound decisions, responsibility, and management of beef cattle. In addition, participants learn more about the beef cattle industry, record keeping, and financial decisions associated with owning livestock. At the conclusion of the 10 month period, the contestants' heifers are visually evaluated for frame, weight, growth, confirmation, structural soundness, and breeding status. The contestant also provides and submits goals and records kept during the ten months to include dates and costs associated with nutrition, health, breeding, and any other management completed. The contestants then undergo an interview and presentation process with a panel of judges regarding their project and the decisions that they have made along the way.

Following the competition, Noah Carpenter was named the 1st place winner of the competition. Noah was awarded a personalized 16 feet bumper pull stock trailer for his accomplishment. Cheyenne was named the 2nd place winner in the state competition. Cheyenne was awarded a registered SimAngus show bull for her accomplishments. Noah and Cheyenne put in countless hours of managing these animals to help them reach their fullest potential and become productive in their beef cattle programs. This is a highly competitive contest. We are very proud to have the top two winners from our county. Congratulations to these exceptional individuals on such an outstanding accomplishment. A special thank you to all of the sponsors that help support this competition. A big thank you to the Alcorn County Co-op for your support and recognition of these FFA members at your location.

Noah Carpenter and Cheyenne Hughes both of Tishomingo County are shown here with the prizes they won at FFA State Competition

Repairs Begin on Collapsed Iuka United Methodist Church Historic Sanctuary

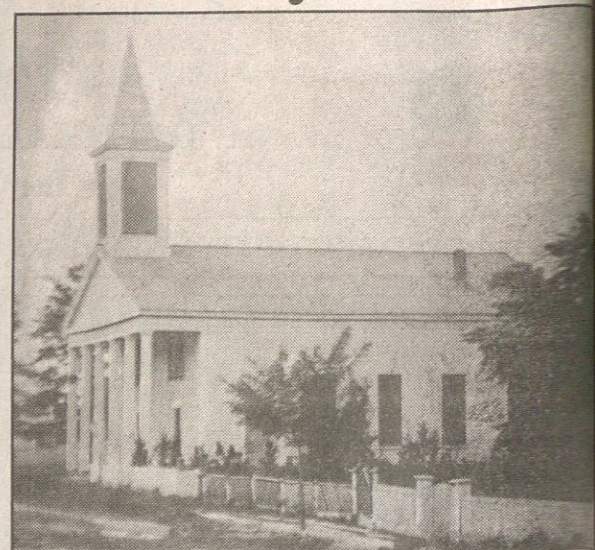

Construction began January 18, 2021, on restoration of the sanctuary of Iuka United Methodist Church.

In the early hours of the morning on Sunday, October 13, 2019, the ceiling collapsed in the empty sanctuary. By the grace of God, there were no bodily injuries.

Following an investigation of the collapse and removal of debris, church officials began developing plans for the rebuilding of the historic church. A search for architectural expertise to guide the project led to the selection of Belinda Stewart Architects of Europa, MS with experience in restoration and revitalization of a number of historic buildings within Mississippi. After numerous meetings with the architect and necessary engineering studies, drawings and construction specification were prepared for presentation to a number of qualified contractors. Contractor proposals and a recommendation by the architect led church trustees to award a construction contract to The Roberts Company of Ripley, MS. According to Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Donnie Brown, "The church congregation is looking forward to the celebration of a beautifully restored sanctuary in late spring or early sum-

Brief History of the Iuka Methodist Church

The Iuka Methodist Episcopal Church South has long since been organized in Iuka in 1858. It was comprised of members who moved from Eastport, which was a thriving river town before the Civil War, and Old New Hope Church, located 2 1/2 miles southwest of Iuka.

Old New Hope was transferred almost entirely to Iuka. The church was formed in 1842, two years before the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The church at Eastport was formed in 1848. From these two churches, Iuka received the pioneer Methodists who firmly planted the doctrines of the people called Methodists.

The earliest records of Iuka Methodist were destroyed during the Civil War; however, Mrs. S.E. Ashmore, wife of the Rev. Sam Ashmore (pastor from 1931-38), researched and recorded the church history as best she could: "In 1845, while this town was yet unbuilt, Robert Williams and his wife and William Richardson ranged throughout the country following the Indian paths and preaching wherever a congregation could be gathered: in schools, in houses, private homes or out under the broad open skies. With the help of another local pastor, Mr. Elias J. Tidwell, their preaching was 'Holiness of the Lord.' Mrs. Robert Williams was powerful in her exposition of the doctrine of sanctification. Another of those early preachers who laid broad the foundation for God and Methodism was William Winburn, who has long since been

erred to his father."

In 1857, with the completion of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad which linked the Atlantic Ocean to the Mississippi River, the town of Iuka was planned. At that time all of section of Mississippi was a part of the Methodist Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which was established in 1846 as a off from the Tennessee Conference. It was for many years by riders, who were men assigned to rural areas.

The Methodist riders preached he stores and homes a while in the old Church located on south side of Iuka on the lot where and Beverly Jourdan live (110 E. Meigs). The Rev. J.B. McKnight and the Rev. W.D. Vire were preachers who pivotal in keeping church together this period.

When the church organized in 1858, William McKnight, DeWoody, A.T. McKnight and G.P. McKnight were preachers (among others Eastport), and Levi Williams (among others New Hope), transferred to the new church in Iuka. Our church then part of the Eastport circuit until sometime the Civil War, when church became a tion" (c. 1868).

C.K. Brooks was "official" pastor from conference. It was his term (1859) that present church structure was built.

The Sanctuary shown here as it was dressed each Easter Sunday before the collapse.

Letter to the Editor:

I would like to begin by saying that I recently had the pleasure of working with a group of people here in Iuka that I feel are truly deserving of recognition for just simply doing their job. When I say "worked with", I mean that I was a patient at the North Mississippi Medical Center's Physical Therapy Department.

From the very first day that I reported to the "PT" department located at the Iuka Hospital, the atmosphere was all business, but very relaxed. Upon arrival, a young lady named Sabrina met me with a smile and got me checked in. After that point I worked with four different physical therapist throughout my sessions: Sonny, Stephanie, Salome, and Meredith. There was one other therapist there, however I did not have the pleasure of working with her. As far as the ones I did work with, I would like to say that I have never been around a better group of people with the work ethic that they have. I have had multiple surgeries and have worked with a number of physical therapist in the Memphis Metro area and this group by far is the best of them all. If anyone of them ever had a bad day or wasn't feeling up to par, they didn't bring it to work with them. They were always upbeat and ready to help. They genuinely actually care about the welfare of their patients and are not just going through the motions.

I would like to thank each and every one of them for being who they are. Peace to all of you and May God Bless.

John Puckett

Pet of the Week

Congratulations to Charley Speece. This cute little fellow is our Pet of the Week at Iuka Animal Clinic. His pet parents are Beth & Vincent Speece. Charley is a 9 year old long haired Dachshund. He was rescued from a small animal rescue in Madison, Alabama. He loves to roam with his big brothers Petie and Bobb. Charley loves to be waited on and have his breakfast in bed. His nickname is King Charley. He has a royal personality and is loved by everyone who knows him.

Getting a dog is an exciting time. Once you've decided to get one, you can be pretty overwhelmed with the choices. If you have chosen to rescue a dog rather than shop for one, there are benefits waiting for you. Dogs which come from shelters or rescue centers are in generally better health than those that you buy from pet stores. Rescue dogs usually have their shots up to date because shelters and rescue centers are highly involved in making sure that the dogs are healthy. While there are shelter and rescue dogs which come during the puppy stage, a lot of them are older dogs. Do not let the old adage of not being able to teach an old dog new tricks put you off. Studies have shown that rescue dogs are easier to train as they are quite invested in the act of pleasing their new family. Also many of the older dogs are already house trained. Give these animals a chance at a new life and rescue a new furry friend for yourself. If you have a new pet or a friend of many years Dr. Jim Perkins at Iuka Animal Clinic will be glad to take care of your pet's needs. Call 423-3470 for an appointment today.

Ramjets: Brought the Finest that Chicago had to Offer to Iuka

Happy 50th Anniversary

Margaret & Roger Taylor of Iuka, will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on January 30th. They were joined in matrimony in Chicago, Illinois on January 30, 1971. They have three living children Richard Taylor, Amanda Taylor, and Angela Benitez. They have three deceased children Freda Hurt, Roger Taylor, and Helen Taylor. They have ten grandchildren. They were the local business owners to Ramjets Restaurant for over thirty years.

Their love is one that is found in fairy tales. It was love at first sight for both and the love has grown stronger everyday since that moment.

You are the parents that all children hope to have, the couple that every pair hopes to become, and the pillars of support that every family wishes it had.

Congratulations Dad and Mom! ~Love Your Children and Family

Ramjets, the restaurant that was named after the owner's nickname that he had received as a young man. Roger "Ramjet" and Margaret Taylor were the proud owners of the successful family owned business for over thirty years. The business was established in 1986 in a small building located in the front of their home. The business was located north of Iuka on highway 25 in the community of North Crossroads. The Taylor's provided the locals with food that had been shipped directly from Chicago. The food ranged from an all beef Vienna hot dog to the thinly sliced seasoned Vienna Italian beef. One also could not overlook the freshly cut fries that were cut by an innovative cutter made by the owner. Even though the food was extraordinary, the business could not be as successful if not for the operation by its workers. It was a rare gift that the business was family owned and operated for so many years. The main thing that can be remembered about this small town business is the love that was put into every meal and the love that they had for each of their customers. This was truly a rare treasure that has retired and left a mark on this town's history.

When it all began! Roger and Margaret with Ramjets Dog House t-shirts.

The Taylors moved here out of love for the country life and the people.

Roger Taylor is originally from Morgantown, WV and later moved to Chicago when he was a teen. He met Margaret who was born and raised in Chicago. An aunt had married a man from Tishomingo County and the Taylors would come to visit. The Taylors realized the city was becoming a dangerous place to live and they made the big move to the rural south in 1981. They loved the people and the country and they started their business at their home. They then moved the original business to Busy B gas station at the intersection of Hwy 25 N and Hwy 365 at Crossroads around the mid 1990s. They closed around 2003 and ventured into a trucking company also named Ramjets. They decided to open a restaurant in Burnsville around 2011 and kept it until 2019 when it was sold to a local from Burnsville. Mr. Taylor is proud to say he had three generations of families eating with them. He said "we never lost our customers because they always found us. We had customers driving over an hour to come eat with us."

Remember

By Ruth Dawson

Happy New Year to each of you and remember to pray for our country. Remember all our National Guard men who are putting their lives in danger for our freedom. May we be a peaceful transition of power.

I had a visit from a former student a couple weeks ago. He is 63 years with a great memory. I was his teacher in the fourth grade at Paden High School when the school went from 1st grade through 12th. We lost our school in 1955. The students went to Tishomingo and Holcut. Mr. J. Crabb was the principal the first year I taught there 1953-54 - then Mr. Hubert Smith the second year. When we lost our high school it left to teach the 8, three teachers: Bob Vimbish, principal, Mrs. Artie Timbes and me. When we were consolidated with Tishomingo High School they took each of us along with the students. Our last year at Paden was 1957-58.

My former student wanted to share something with me that had stuck with him. I kept a Bible on my desk. He said I started down a row and each child was assigned the day to do the devotional. Another student reminded me of her time with me that each student answered roll call with a Bible verse. This got not only students but parents involved in the Bible.

I remember the verse "Jesus Wept" was used nearly every day but I never minded. It was a beautiful story of how human Jesus was and how much He loved. I recall some of the parents sharing with me how they would search the scriptures for short verses. Smile.

My friend said that I didn't ask if they wanted to read that I just designated the reader for the day. Since I was not gifted with audible prayer like "Miss Artie Timbes" we prayed the Lord's Prayer for years. Finally, I ventured and lead the students in prayer. This opened the door and students lead us in prayer too.

When I moved to teach Junior high English I always had eighth grade girls the first period. We had about fifteen minutes for devotional, current events, announcements, and yes, singing.

Digress: As I was honored on my 96th with the outpouring of birthday cards, I recall one of my former students alluded to the fact of our daily devotions. She still today cherishes the beautiful singing of her classmate, Arnetta Bennett. It still blesses her today and reminds me of the last verse in the poem "Daffodils"

For oft, when on my couch I lie

In vacant or in pensive mood,

They flash upon that inward eye

Which is the bliss of solitude;

And then my heart with pleasure fills,

And dances with the daffodils.

Memory, a great blessing that each of us has been downed with.

A Bible stayed on my desk as long as I taught. Today I'm thankful I let my students know I loved the Lord. There were no laws broken. The laws were made for the teachers not to teach and pray about the goodness of God, it was not mandated and made for the students. In Junior High the students loved to lead in this category of learning and I could continue what I had been doing before the Supreme Court took the Bible out of schools, or tried to. That has been one of the greatest mistakes they have ever made. Our overflowing prisons answer that question.

So much crime today. Good boys and girls have the mistaken idea that they won't get addicted. "I can quit when I want to." Wrong. After the habit is acquired the devil has them when he wants them. They do these deplorable crimes that had they not been obsessed would never have committed act.

A loss of a good contributing citizen with a wasted life and another liability for our state. How sad. I've had high school students tell me they were afraid to try it because they were afraid they'd like it. That is the wisest thing one can do. After you start you really want to quit but it has its grip on you. That's how it works.

Never eat forbidden fruit. There is a penalty to pay when you do. Look at Eve? And we are still paying.

New Sites on the Old Shiloh Battlefield

SHILOH, Tennessee If you haven't visited Shiloh National Military Park in the last month, expect to come across a few new additions to the park. New signage has been erected along the driving route and more trees have been added to the historic orchards.

At Tour Stop #16 (Cent Hospital Site) and Tour Stop #18 (Peach Orchard Site) new fruit trees were planted on December 1 in the historic orchards of the Shiloh maintenance staff.

In Larkin Bell Field, south of the Tent Hospital site, a dozen new apple trees now occupy the historic orchard. Union Colonel David Stuart's regiments camped in this orchard before the Battle of Shiloh, and many of the soldiers left accounts of camping among the apple trees.

In the historic Peach Orchard, dozens of three-year old peach trees of the June Gold variety were resettled in the area. "In the past, we have planted younger trees, but they just were not surviving due to weather conditions and wildlife," said Maintenance Chief Randy

Martin. "We hope that by transplanting these older trees, we will have better results."

The Peach Orchard was the scene of severe fighting on both days of the Battle of Shiloh. General Albert Sidney Johnston, the commander of all Confederate forces in the Western Theater, would be among those killed on April 6, 1862, in this area of the battlefield.

Features were added to the Shiloh Driving Tour last month including two new stops and accompanying wayside exhibits. In addition, an updated park brochure is available to visitors in the Visitor Center.

Tour stop #13 (Woolf Field) and Tour Stop #15 (Davis Wheat Field) are brand new additions to the driving tour which help further tell the story of the battle. "Our wayside exhibits not only explain the action which took place during the bloody fighting, they also give visitors a sense of place in the big picture of the two-day struggle in 1862," said Superintendent Allen Etheridge.

Visitors will also notice that new signage has been erected at tour stop #5 (Shiloh Church) which includes the story of both days of fighting in and around this iconic landmark. All tour stops include concrete pads and walkways making these sites completely ADA accessible.

Currently, all facilities at the Shiloh Battlefield and the Corinth Civil War Interpretive Center are open. Due to COVID restrictions, the number of visitors to the Shiloh Visitor Center is 10 (ten) and the Corinth Center is 40 (forty). The visitor center at Shiloh is open from 8:00 am - 4:00 pm daily with the 45-minute park film "Shiloh: Fiery Trial" shown on the hour, every hour. The Corinth Civil War Interpretive Center is open from 8:00 am - 5:00 pm daily with three films shown throughout the day. The bookstore at Shiloh is open from 8:00 am - 4:30 pm daily.

Lessons On Life From The Prophet Isaiah (part 7)

We have been looking at Isaiah 1:6-7, so I will return to those verses: "From the sole of the foot even to the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds and bruises and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment. Your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers." I will not recap what I said in the last article, but I do want to say that Isaiah said the whole city and nation was sick, like one who is covered with sores from head to toe, along with other wounds. Now he says that the sores have not even been closed, nor have they had any ointment put on them. This is a picture of a natural body that represents a city and nation. It would seem that many knew that their nation and its capitol were sick, but nobody had bothered to apply any solution, or any healing medicine. Can you get the drift of this? This is exactly where most of the nations of the world are today, including our beloved nation. Many know that we have problems, but when some try to apply a healing medicine, there comes a cry of: "negativism". Many people do not want a solution, because it would call upon them to change some things in their lives. It was that way in Isaiah's day. Have you noticed that history does repeat itself? What went wrong in Israel, because the people were not willing to accept God's remedy is what is going wrong in our nation and the nations of the world.

Pastor's Tidbits

Isaiah said that his country was desolate, with cities that had been burned with fire. Does that sound familiar? Enemies seek to destroy what many have sacrificed for years to gain, yet most people seem content to "sit back and watch it happen". Strangers were devouring the nation of Israel by infiltrating it with their own ways and religions, as is the case in our nation and many others. What our forefathers desired and designed was a good plan, although no plan of man is faultless, yet we have gotten away from the honesty and determination of our forefathers. It is fine that other people come to live in our nation, but we should not think it necessary to bend the rules and change many laws to accommodate them, while overlooking the needs of those who have sacrificed to make this nation great! When nations get away have all kinds of groups of people with their own individualistic views who are working night and day to wreck our great nation, and we are sitting on our hands and letting pen. Isaiah's hope that he could get others to listen to God's message, but most nations and their country actually fell! By J. Briggs King, Evangelist, Rainsville, AL (678) 451-0921
