Luckily for many, the symptoms associated with the Omicron variant have been less severe than the initial strain of the virus which overwhelmed the nation in 2020. Three years into the pandemic and everyone is hoping to see the end of the severity of COVID.

Since the onset of the pandemic Tishomingo County has lost 99 residents to COVID-19. While 10,642 individuals have died with the virus in the state of Mississippi as a whole.

County Mourns Death of Leading Citizen, Martha Segars

Tishomingo County lost one of its most treasured residents with the passing of Mrs. Martha Segars on January 19, Gracious in manner, charming in person, brilliant in mind, quick in wit, a wonderful personality was Martha Ann Thompson Segars. She was born in Red Bay, Alabama on September 6, 1931, to Due and Ruby Thompson. Martha was a 1949 graduate of Red Bay High School and was one of only 2,144 women to enroll at the University of Alabama that year.

At the university, she stood out in her fashion design classes as a talented and creative seamstress. Her fashion design abilities caught the attention of the head of the department who strongly encouraged Martha to change her major from dietetics to fashion design but Martha remained steadfast in her career decision. In 1952, while still in college, Martha married her high school sweetheart, Kelly S. Segars. Shortly after receiving her Bachelor of Science degree in Institutional Management in 1953, Martha accepted an internship in dietetics at Vanderbilt University in Nashville. But before the couple could relocate from Tuscaloosa to Nashville, Kelly was called to serve in the Korean

With Kelly in Korea, Martha moved to Nashville and lived in the intern's joint housing as she worked tirelessly toward her certification. When Kelly was transferred from Korea to Hawaii, Martha's boss insisted that she take time off from her internship to join her husband in Hawaii. After he was discharged from the army in 1955, the couple returned to Nashville so that Martha could finish her internship. Times were tough for the young couple as Martha, intent on becoming a registered dietician, worked standing 12 hours a day, seven days per week while pregnant, and Kelly, intent on becoming a physician, worked full-time as a pharmacist in two drug stores and attended classes at two colleges to prepare for medical school. At night, they slept on a flattened cardboard box that served as their bed because they could not afford furniture or a mattress. Their first son, Scott, was born in the charity ward at Vanderbilt Hospital in December of 1955.

Before Martha completed her internship, Kelly was accepted into the University of Mississippi School of Medicine. He moved to Jackson, Mississippi, to begin his studies while she remained in Nashville to complete her internship. On her own, working long hours with no child care readily available and affordable, Martha made the difficult decision to let her mother care for her young son until she completed her internship. Scott stayed with his grandparents in Red Bay until the family could be reunited in Jackson. On the rare occasion, when Martha was allowed a day off, she would ride a bus from Nashville to Red Bay to spend time with him.

When Martha completed her internship in Nashville, she was a full-fledged Registered Dietitian and was now the family's sole breadwinner. She and Scott joined Kelly in Jackson where she worked as a therapeutic dietitian with the Administration Hospital. Three years later, their second son. Mark was born. In 1960 the family of 4 moved for their last time after Dr. Kelly completed his internship work in Norfolk, Virginia. The move to Iuka, Mississippi, was an adventuresome one. They arrived with their two young sons, a pair of Dobermans, and a fish tank full of black guppies. Their daughter, Leigh, missed that adventure because she was not born until 18 months later. After 11 years of schooling and 3 hard sought degrees, Iuka would be the Segars' home base and sanctuary. Together, Dr. Kelly and Martha would dedicate their lives to the betterment of their community through their careers, their work with numerous civic organizations. and the establishment of many businesses, including First American National Bank and its 10 branch offices.

Shortly after arriving in Iuka, Mrs. Segars became the first dietitian ever hired at the Iuka Hospital and she continued to work there for the next 26 years as the Dietetic Department Director, Manager, and Therapeutic Dietitian.

Outside of her dietetic career, Mrs. Segars was also well-known for her cooking skills and love of entertaining. In addition to her delicious cuisine creations, she was also known for her sewing skills, making most of the clothes for her family as well their household drapes, curtains, and linens. In the early 1960s, when she had three small children at home, she worked part-time as a dietician but worked full-time managing their farm (which included rental property, field crops, and cattle) and their household, all the while keeping Dr. Segars impeccably dressed, she still found the time and energy to design and sew a complete ensemble and enter a Vogue Style Pattern sewing contest. Her creation, including a hat, won second place in the contest.

Martha's design skills did not stop in the sewing room. She was also a very talented interior designer. Over the years she remodeled countless homes and businesses and assisted in several architectural designs, including landscaping. Some of her most ambitious endeavors included the complete interior design of First American's main office in Iuka, as well as several of their branch offices.

Although born and reared in Red Bay, Alabama, Martha Segars' ties with Tishomingo County began generations before her birth when her parents' families settled in Old Tishomingo County in the 1700s. It is therefore no surprise that she spent so many years of her life promoting and growing Tishomingo County, being as it was intertwined with her past as well as her future.

Her contributions to her community are outstanding. She served on the boards of over three dozen including organizations Yellow Creek Port Authority, Yellow Creek Watershed Authority, Tishomingo County Economic Development, Tishomingo County Tourism Council, Tennessee Tombigbee Tourism Association, NASA Steering Committee, Tri-State NASA Celebration, Tri-County Incubator Industry Board, Tishomingo County Vo-Tech Complex, Northeast Mississippi Rural Development Association, Northeast Mississippi Community College Hotel & Restaurant Advisory Board, and the CREATE Foundation. She also served as President of the Iuka Chamber of Commerce and Chair of the Arts and Historical Committee.

She was devoted to her tourism work and her passion for it shown through in differences made by her. She was the driving force behind "Trash & Treasures along the Tenn-Tom," a 234-mile yard sale beginning at the Mississippi-Tennessee state line, ending in Demopolis, Alabama, and covering 20 communities along the path of the Tenn-Tom Waterway. This event began in 2007 and continues today. While serving as the chair for the Tishomingo County Tourism Council she created the tourism slogan "Tishomingo County, The Best Kept Secret in the South." She also developed and was a tour guide for the Eagle Watch Cruises and the Fall Foliage Cruises on Pickwick Lake, as well as the driving route of the Fall Colors Tours. This led to one of the largest percentage increases of visitors in any county of the state at the time.

willingness Her serve her community and state did not go unnoticed.

Martha Segars she wrote a daily column

Governor Cliff Finch chose her to serve as an Aide de Camp and a Colonel on his staff, and she was appointed to the Tennessee Tombigbee Waterway Development Authority by Governor Haley Barbour.

In recognition of her contributions to the Tenn-Tom Waterway Development Authority, she was twice appointed to the Honorable Order of Kentucky Colonels by Kentucky Governors Steven L. Beshear and Ernie Fletcher. Kentucky Colonels is an organization of men and women first organized in 1813 as Ambassadors of Good Will. The mission of Kentucky Colonels is to promote opportunity, heritage, history, and leadership in their communities and states. The name "Kentucky Colonel" is synonymous with strength of character, leadership, and dedication to the welfare of others. A Kentucky Colonel places others above themselves. Other Kentucky Colonels include Clark Gable, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Senator John Glenn, and President Ronald Reagan.

Her executive ability, sound judgment, strong convictions, and generous expenditure of her time and of her herself were qualities that made her an invaluable member of every organization to which she gave of herself and donated her time. She was admired and honored for her unswerving loyalty and work well done in whatever post she held.

In acknowledgment of her selfless service and valued contributions, she was chosen the 2007 Statewide Volunteer of the Year out of the more than 70 people who were nominated. She was named Volunteer of the Year by the Tishomingo County Development Foundation in 1994 and again in 2007. In 2008, she received the Excellence in Tourism Award for Community Volunteer of the Year by the Mississippi Tourism Association and was a Mississippi delegate to the 2008 National Republican convention where about the convention that was published in the Tupelo Daily Journal. The following year, she was selected as one of Mississippi's 50 Leading Business Women. On April 25 of 2019, the state flag was flown over the Mississippi State Capitol to honor her and Dr. Segars' contributions to Iuka, Tishomingo County, and the State of Mississippi.

Additionally, for many vears. Martha served as a Scout leader for both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and was active in the Jaycettes, the Pilot Club, and the Friends of the Library organizations. She was the coowner and manager of both Hillwinds Farm and Casey Springs Land Management, served on the boards of Communications, Segars LeMark Custom Homes, Treasure Shores, Southgate Estates, Action Communications, and Segars Clinic. She also served as a Sunday school teacher, a Youth Council Director, and a Sunday School Secretary for the Iuka United Methodist Church. She and Dr. Segars established the Segars Family Endowment Fund with their church to help fund college tuition for some of the church's young

Upon retiring from Iuka Hospital in 1988, she began her second career as Director of Marketing, Advertising, and Public Relations for First American National Bank until her second retirement in 1996. She continued to serve on the Board of Directors until her death.

She suffered numerous health problems along the way, but always quietly and with grace, as she was determined not to let them hold her back or define her. It did not matter the extent of her pain or how cluttered her calendar, if a casserole was needed for a church function, a cake needed for a wedding, or reception needed to be held, Martha was usually one of the first to volunteer. She was selfless, always putting the needs of others above her own, and was there to pitch in or, more often, spearhead an event when needed. When not giving freely of herself and her time to others, she indulged in her favorite past times of cooking, sewing, entertaining, traveling, gardening, reading, and playing piano. She was instrumental in organizing the Classic Bankers with First American National Bank to help keep their customers engaged, involved, and entertained.

Her death has brought deep sorrow, not only to her family, friends, and members of her church, Iuka United Methodist, where she had been a faithful member for over 60 years, but also to hundreds of others associated with her in the numerous organizations in which she had been active over a long period of time. Her presence and influence here shall always be missed.

Martha was preceded in death by her husband, Kelly S. Segars, Sr.; her parents: her brothers. Douglas Thompson and wife Burnell, Fred Thompson and wife Vernell: and her nephews, Charles Thompson and Tommy Thompson. She is survived by her children, Dr. Scott Segars (Diane), Mark T. Segars (Lynn), and Leigh Ann Segars; her grandchildren, Tyler, Jackson (Carol), Thompson, Annie, and James; her nephews, James Neil Thompson and Jerry Thompson, and her nieces, Dolores Sparks, Susan Ledbetter, and Janet Kennedy, all of Red Bay, Alabama, and many great-nephews and great-nieces.

Remember by Ruth Dawson

2022, and I was sitting watching a parade, not too interested and in walked my son. "Watching the Rose Bowl Parade?" He asked. "Rose Bowl Parade! In Pasadena, California? Really?" I had not made the connection. "Not nearly as pretty as sitting on the side of the street watching."

Digress. I was invited to go to Los Angeles with Allie Umfress to visit Sam and Jamell Umfress, and baby Jena for the week of the Rose Bowl activities. It was probably twenty years ago, but my memory filled my being with that wonderful week. So many "firsts". I had never flown nor visited in such a huge city.

People were everywhere. Many had been camped along the streets all night. They wanted to get a first row seat. They had brought blankets along with their children. There was a guy that took a liking to me, and my good friend Allie just agged him on, enjoying the show. So much for that.

Back to reality. I watched for a few more minutes, reminisced and then I remembered something that caught my attention that morning while reading the opinion page in the Daily Journal. It broght back some really good memories of my trips to Hollvwood.

Who at my age doesn't remember "Sanford and Son"? A weekly series that ran for several years that Chester and I enjoyed. There was a problem sometimes because at the same time it was in competition with Friday night sports.

While visiting in L.A. we were treated with something different. Nancy Frazer, Jamell's mom, had grown up there and she was much at home and tried to show us the town. Some sign! She carried us to Hollywood one day for a tour of where various movies and TV shows were filmed. The one I remember best is Sanford and Son and this is why. Sanford was always grabbing his chest and faking a heart attack. He'd shout "Here I come Elizabeth, but don't wait up for me!" He was a junk yard dealer with various men buying junk. It was a very interesting episode on Friday nights. He and his son Lamont kept on laughing.

We were divided in groups with tour guides for all the shows. Our guide was from just south of Memphis. He pointed me out because of my southern speech. Just like him. We were carried to the room where Sanford and Son was filmed. He stepped down exactly where Sanford had died. Really. No one helped him because they thought he was just acting. Sad. He was a great guide but had a by word, I'll not repeat, but used it quite often.

We spent the day going from one building to the next in the rain. I have never laughed so much. Nancy was just slopping in the puddles of water as if they weren't there. We three had only one umbrella. There were about 17 in our group splashing from one building to the next. The rain didn't bother the guide and we followed. It was a messy day but warm. We just needed our bathing suits! We learned a lot about how scenes are blown out of proportion for our entertainment and saw clips of most of the shows. This gave us a few minutes to rest. I learned that all that glitters is not gold. Actors have a hard time becoming a Star.

come out of Sion (Zion in O. T.) the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness for Jacob: For this is My covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins. As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes. For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance."

I never cease to be amazed that this passage of Scripture is so often overtil the fullness of the looked! Yes, the church is the major instrument that God is using for His work that will change after the church is gone and Israel "comes to the stage" again! Israel's blindness is "in part", meaning that some Israelites are coming to understand salvation through Jesus Christ in our day, and to God be the praise, yet most of Israel is blind as to the identity of Jesus. That blindness, however, is only until the fullness of the Gentiles be come in, as verse 25 above says. This means that when God has finished His work among the "Gentile church" (Romans 11:25b), He will resume the church is taken ness from Jacob, or out at the rapture (I Thessalonians 4:13-18). Israel, as a nation, will be saved from complete destruction by the antichrist, with many individual Jews coming to Christ for salvation from their sins. God says in our verses above that He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob. Notice that the name "Jacob" is used here, giving us ample reason to understand that God is speaking of the descendants of Jacob, Israel, and not the church! Notice the name "Sion", or "Zion", as our passage says the Deliverer will come out of Sion, or out of the Jewish people and their land and true, and is irreverscity. It is important also that we see that written, There shall of earth today, but His work in Israel. the "Deliverer" will

This will be after turn away ungodli-Israel as Jacob's descendants. So, just as Jesus is the Savior of Gentiles (meaning all who are not of Israel), He will also be the Savior of the Jewish remnant who will be saved during the tribulation. In the first part of this series I used Isaiah 54:9-10 to speak of the covenant of God with Israel, now we are seeing that same covenant in Romans 11:25-29. In fact, Romans is referring to the Old Tes-Scriptures tament relating to God's covenant with Israel, thus letting us know today that He has not given up on Israel, and that His covenant still holds ible!

How Not to have money for retirement

Dr. Glenn Mollette

2019-2020 Federal Reserve SCF data shows us the average retirement savings by age in the U.S.

- Ages 18-24: $4,745.25
- Ages 25-29: $9,408.51
- Ages 30-34: $21,731.92Ages 35-39: $48,710.27
- Ages 40-44: $101,899.22Ages 45-49: $148,950.14
- Ages 50-54: $146,068.38
- Ages 55-59: $223,493.56
- Ages 55-59: $225,495.56
 Ages 60-64: $221,451.67
- Ages 65-69: $206,819.35

How can you grow money for retirement savings? Three men were talking at a morning coffee shop table. One said, "I hope someday I can just strike it rich." Another one said, "I hope I can win the lottery." Another got up to leave the table saying, "I'm on my way to work, that's my only hope."

You can't count on winning the lottery, or someone leaving you a lot of money from their estate. However, you can count on these two principles to grow your retirement fund - work and save your money. Work a job that pays money. Put some of that money aside every paycheck into a savings plan.

Can you imagine if you had started saving money at a younger age, where you would be today financially? If a 25-year-old would put $6,000 in a Roth IRA account every year then by the age of 55, at a 7% rate, that adult would have over $600,000 saved.

Even saving $6,000 a year from the age of 40 to the age of 65 will give you a nice sum of over $400,000 at the same rate. Yes, five years makes a significant difference in compounding interest. Even if you can only save $1,000 a year the accumulation will be over a $100,000.

A Roth IRA is a good way to save money. You have already paid tax on the money you are putting into the account. The money grows every year and when you start withdrawing the money out of the account after age 59 1/2 you don't have to pay taxes on your withdrawals.

Traditional IRAS are fine too but you are delaying your tax responsibility. You avoid the tax today to pay it later when you start withdrawing from your IRA.

Education should begin early. Parents should teach children to save money. A child can save for a new baseball glove, dress, bicycle or car. When we save our hardearned cash and have to spend it on something we want, the value of the purchase increases. We know how hard it is to save every month and then to release that entire savings on a purchase. If you have saved $40,000 to pay cash for a car and then write that check to pay for it, then the purchase kind of takes your breath away. You greatly value what you bought because how hard it was to come up with that money and how long it took to save that much.

If you are the ATM for your children and just instantaneously meet every need they have, they will never truly value what you have bought them. If they have to save some money and put some effort into the purchase, they will have a totally different respect for the expenditure.

We realize we can't take money with us when we die. Money is only for this life. Money is for caring for you and helping others. If you don't spend it all there are plenty of people, a church or charities you can leave it to who will enjoy it when you are gone.

Saving money is a weekly or monthly choice. You don't have to but if you don't, you won't have any.

Read Glenn's book titled, Grandpa's Store by Glenn Mollette. Order at Amazon.com Grandpa's Store is a fun and adventure filled read told from the perspective of a child and young teen. The book is filled with remembrances from the young life of Glenn Mollette. Events are remembered from the time he was about three years old up until his early sixteenth birthday. The book is filled with humor, gripping life stories, inspiration and a little non-sense. This is a great read for any age level but will be very much enjoyed by young adults.

Bicker: To engage in a petty quarrel: squabble.

We should be thankful and full of life every day. Knowing that being good to others is so very important. Laying all things aside never bickering and carrying on over senseless, little petty things.

The damage of any of these actions are lifelong. A life of pain from abuse that is never forgotten. That causes these pained children to turn to drugs or alcohol to escape or forget.

Let's try and put a stop to some abuse by being more aware. I say this in love. When you are down and out go love someone. Love is the most powerful form of spiritual warfare.

Our Staff will provide Personal Care for you and Your loved ones during your time of need.
