

County Board discusses accommodating Northrop Grumman expansion at Tri-State

by Pamela McRae

The county board of supervisors met Tuesday morning for regular business and to meet with local industry Northrop Grumman about leasing additional space to accommodate an expansion that could mean 400 more local jobs.

Though the portion of the meeting with national space and defense contractor Northrop Grumman was in executive session, since lease negotiations were the subject, board members discussed several times ways to accommodate the company’s request to lease a large portion of Building 1000, prior to the closing the public session.

Hubbard Salem Voting Precinct

County election commissioners Pete Walker, Sherry Gwatney and Beverly Ragan met with the board to request that the recently established Hubbard Salem voting precinct location be allowed to remain in a small location of Building 1000, even if Northrop Grumman takes over the building.

First District Supervisor Brandon Grissom stated, via telecom, that he hopes the industry can still allow the election commission to operate the polling place that is used just one or two times a year, at most. Accommodations have already been made to make the precinct ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990) compliant, including a concrete ramp, explained Grissom. Moving in a small portable building would be another solution, but the board hoped to convince Northrop Grumman to accommodate the need to use the small space for elections for the about 150 voters who use it.

The issue is that Northrop Grumman

Lady Braves & Lady Cardinals continue march toward State

by Jerry Charbausk

The Lady Braves beat Indianola Gentry, 72-51 last Friday night to punch their ticket to the third round of the 2022 4A state playoffs.

The TC ladies let Gentry stick around in the first half, like that fly you keep swatting at, but just won’t go away. The second half saw the Lady Braves put some distance between them, and they never looked back!

It was a great team effort from the starters, to the bench, and to the sixth man - the fans. Senior Clara Garland led the scoring for the Lady Braves dropping in 25 points, and 00 Lexi Kennedy had a good night and has a 27-1 record this season.

“We are excited, but concerned,” said Belmont Coach Chris Higginbottom. “Calhoun City is really good – we will have to play really well to beat them.”

Belmont continued their power game with a 65-22 home court win last Friday night over Choctaw County in the second round of playoffs. Mary-Grace Storment lead the Lady Cardinal scoring with 12 points; Rayleigh Guin had 9; Kalea Koger and Kat Reno 8 points each; Charlie Brock and Brooklyn Hodum with 7 points each; Hailey Bledsoe and Sadie Holt with 6 points each, and Sophie Greene with 2 points.

Everyone is invited to come out and support the Lady Cardinal as they try to punch their ticket to Jackson for the Semi-Finals.

Hotel work progressing; summer opening planned

by Pamela McRae

Two hotel locations were bought by construction investors Joiner and Raynard Construction, LLC late last year, and crews have been completing demolition and cleanup in recent weeks. The new owners hope to have the hotels ready for occupancy by the end of summer, announced managing partner Julien Raynard last week speaking to Iuka Rotary Club members at their weekly meeting.

Raynard described to Rotarians the company’s plans to help Iuka and Tishomingo County by completing these hotels, which would be not only an asset to the local community, but also to his business.

It has been many years since acceptable accommodations for out-of-town guests has been available in the north half of the county.

“This is such a good thing for not only visitors but for locals who have family or business associates come visit from out of town,” said Tishomingo County Development Foundation Executive Director Gary Mathews. “We’ve been sorely lacking in our business community - not having suitable hotel rooms to offer travelers of all kinds - business or pleasure.”

The construction contractor, Keith Haynes plans to start installing new doors this week, and Henry Harris, who is overseeing purchasing and hiring for the new hotels is ordering furniture, flooring, and lumber for construction.

Henry Harris is committed to running high quality and clean hotels with a reputation for extraordinary service. Family visiting from outside the community can rent rooms, but local residents will not.

Another site Joiner and Raynard purchased, the Tishomingo County News building, is supposed to start getting a new roof this week, weather permitting. The previous roof and rafters all had to be removed due to damage.

Circuit Clerk, Election Commission demonstrating new voting machines in events across county

Circuit Clerk Josh McNatt and Tishomingo County Election Commissioners will be bringing out their new voting equipment for events across the county for voters to get hands on experience.

The new paper ballot and scanner system replaces the TSX Touch Screen voting system.

“These events will help you be more familiar with the new paper ballot and scanner system, allow you to ask questions, test vote and more,” said McNatt in a released statement.

All citizens are welcome to attend any event on the schedule listed. If you have questions contact the Circuit Clerk’s Office at (662) 423-7026.

All the events are from 5-7 p.m.

facilities, since they are a national defense contractor, usually have security protocols that would prevent use like the polling place. While the polling area could be closed off, restrooms that may be necessary for poll workers' use on election days would be outside that area.

Furniture at Tri-State to be surplussed

Tri-State Commerce Park manager Sean Bullard also informed the board in his report that he was trying to surplus out (sell) some of the remaining office furniture from Building 1000. Board members suggested he wait to see what the new tenant may need before moving further.

New voting machine demonstrations

Election Commissioner Sherry Gwatney

talked about the upcoming series of demonstration nights to show county voters how new election machines will work. The first one will be February 24th.

The board determined that they would start asking for asphalt price bids to only be good for six months, since economic and supply line factors can make the price fluctuate so much over a year. They will advertise for asphalt bids in May again, asking potential suppliers to guarantee a price for six months.

Discussion Items

- Board approved $100 renewal of Lady Braves Softball sponsor sign.
- Approved transfer of Iuka Fire Department jaws of life equipment to Snowdown Fire Department.

- Tabled discussion of county fairgrounds bathroom bid until Fairgrounds Board representative was present.
- Discussed rejecting bids for selling a railcar bridge in the fourth district as they seemed too low. Agreed to table the issue until board attorney can verify some details.
- Approved Iuka Airport pay request number 5 of $103,961.
- Add 2021 rubbish and transfer station reports to minutes.
- Kenny Paul Geno provided updates on current county engineering projects for each district, including that work on Crow's Neck bridge is awaiting Mississippi Department of Transportation action, and that engineers are preparing bid documents for a project on County Road 961.

Bray's Beautiful "Alan" Shows How Rewarding Cat Ownership Can Be

This week at Iuka Animal Clinic our Pet of the Week is a very handsome boy. Everyone, meet Alan. Alan is the fur child of Bradley & Kristin Bray. Alan is just 2 years old and weighs 15 pounds. Alan is believed to be a Maine Coon/Siamese mix & has the most beautiful long dark chocolate coat. The only cardio Alan prefers is short walks to his food bowl & playing with his cat sister CoCo Chanel. Alan's hobbies include long naps in his king size bed & cuddling with his family. He is a spoiled & loved cat indeed.

Owning a cat can be an extremely rewarding relationship. A cat can both calm your nervous system and provide an immediate outlet for fun and play. Although cats are independent animals who like to scavenge and explore on their own terms, they are also very affectionate with their owners and people they trust.

If your cat needs a veterinarian call Dr. Jim

Perkins at 423-3470. He will help ensure your cat has a long healthy life

Rotary welcomes new businesspeople to Iuka

The Iuka Rotary Club had the pleasure of welcoming Mr. Julian Raynard and Mr. Henry Harris from Joyner & Raynard on Wednesday February 16th. As many already know, Joyner & Raynard have purchased both the Sunset Hotel and the Victorian Inn and have begun renovations on both. They have also purchased the Tishomingo County News/The Vidette, both building and paper and are in the process of renovating the building. The Vidette has moved to a building on Quitman temporarily until renovations have been completed.

Mr. Raynard gave an update on the hotels and how the renovations are going on them as well as the paper office. He expressed how delighted they are to be in Iuka and how the people of the community have embraced them being here.

Mr. Harris is the hotel project manager for both of the hotel projects and spoke on the plans moving forward when the buildings are finished. Both hotels are to be kept as individually owned, not chains. Mr. Harris, originally from Ackerman, has successfully managed hotels in several states for 30+ years and will be a great asset for the Joyner & Raynard properties.

Mrs. Pamela McRae, who has been hired as the new Managing Editor for the Vidette was also with Mr. Raynard and Mr. Harris. She talked about some of the new things to look for from the paper. Among some of the improvements will be the paper in color along with improvements to the quality of print and pictures. There are also plans to have an online version of the Vidette.

We are happy welcome Joyner & Raynard to Iuka.

More than 130 youth enjoy Winter Discipleship NOW at Crow’s Neck

Tishomingo County Baptist Association Winter Discipleship Now 2022 took place last weekend at Crows Neck Christian retreat center. There were over 130 kids and more than 25 adults.

This was the biggest winter DNOW that TCBA has ever had, according to Sean Glidewell, pastor at New Prospect Baptist Church and one of the speakers over the weekend.

Tishomingo Baptist’s Brother Rusty Fair was the camp speaker and Caleb and Michaela Cody lead worship with their band for the weekend.

Clayton Allred, Kaylen Crane Allred, Sean Glidewell, Micah Page, and Bucky Barnett all led breakout sessions and classes for the students on specific subjects like sharing your faith.

More than 16 churches in the county were represented as well as some churches from outside the county.

“We are looking forward to the summer event which will take place from July 22 to July 24 at crows neck Christian retreat center,” said Glidewell.
